

JOHNSON SHOYAMA
GRADUATE SCHOOL OF PUBLIC POLICY

Centre for the Study of Science and Innovation Policy

UREGINA ▼ USASK

Please join the Johnson Shoyama Graduate School of Public Policy
for a reception as we launch our new research institute, the Centre for the Study of Science and Innovation Policy

Wednesday, March 8, 2017

4:15 to 6:00 p.m.

Diefenbaker Building, University of Saskatchewan

Appetizers and refreshments beginning at 4:15

Formal program at 4:30

Parking is available in the metered lot north of the Diefenbaker building

Please RSVP to js_outreach@uregina.ca by March 1, 2017.

www.scienceandinnovationpolicy.ca