

Women in Public Sector Leadership

Moderated by Dr. Vianne Timmons, President and Vice-Chancellor, University of Regina

Of the eighteen Government of Saskatchewan Ministries, six are led by female Deputy Ministers. A first-class leader is innovative, visionary, an effective communicator, respectful, resourceful, and leads by example with their colleagues and employees. As senior public servants, they are accountable to the public, and must remain neutral in a complex and political environment while providing evidenced-based and thoughtful advice. Join us as Dr. Vianne Timmons leads a conversation with three Deputy Ministers as they share their thoughts on successfully leading provincial ministries and their insights on opportunities for the advancement of more women in senior leadership roles.
