

~JSGS STUDENT WORKSHOP~

RESEARCH FOR POLICY IMPACT: EXPERIMENTAL DESIGN AND ANALYSIS

Facilitated by Vince Hopkins, Assistant Professor, JSGS
& Yang Yang, Assistant Professor, JSGS

Public policy is about social and economic impact. One way to maximize impact is through experiments: data-driven analysis to solve problems and find what works (and what doesn't). In this FREE workshop, students will learn the basics of designing and analyzing experiments for policy. We'll cover theory and data—you'll even conduct your own experiment!
